1	Shocking that City keeps buying trucks too big for existing alleys. Equally shocking that they now have trash removal scheduled for street sweeping days! As we age, we're not looking forward to dragging bins from mid-block to cross street in the snow and ice.	11/11/2021 8:17 PM
2	Would love compost, just cannot afford it.	11/11/2021 4:28 PM

1	Ridiculous	11/27/2021 12:10 PM
2	This is too difficult to maneuver taking 2-3 bins down to the street, especially as we get older. We have been taking them through the alley to put on 13th to avoid the stairs but this will be more difficult if we have snow to contend with. I feel sorry for those people whose houses border on 13th because on any given Monday (our collection day) there can be as many as 12 or more bins alongside their curbs. This can affect parking as well as noise in those houses as people place their bins on the street.	11/11/2021 8:22 PM
3	We didn't install the steps after the City changed its plan. As I recall, the City changed the plan after the steps and alley were all in place.	11/11/2021 8:17 PM
4	After one week we got a letter telling us we'd be going back to alley trash pickups.	11/11/2021 4:28 PM

2	City planners have changed zoning so that there are 6 people living next door to us. Each one has a car. On collection days, parking can be difficult with so many cars on the street as well as bins. Some people never move their bins, taking up parking space for days on end.	11/11/2021 8:22 PM
3	The reduction in large item pick-up from once a month to every other has caused trash to build up in alleys. Having to drag extra trash to curb results in massive mess. If they are hand loading trucks, they can drive down alleys.	11/11/2021 5:47 PM
4	On the days when we have trash, recycle, compost, large item and it happens to be a street sweeping week it is a nightmare.	11/11/2021 4:22 PM

2	We have had to put out bins in the middle of afternoon to assure that parked cars don't prevent us from being able to put bins out.	11/11/2021 9:21 PM
3	Sometimes bins can not be placed in front of the address to which they belong.	11/11/2021 8:22 PM
4	It's also terrible for the people living on the corner lots, who are now treated to a whole row of trash, recycling, and rotting compost bins on certain days.	11/11/2021 8:17 PM
5	Our block has a lot of people who street park due to 3 apartment complexes and rental properties.	11/11/2021 7:12 PM
6	We are on a hill and only street parking is available.	11/11/2021 4:28 PM
7	Our block has two apartment complexes and several homes that have been broken into rentals. There are a lot of people parking on the street. We've had our bands moved off of the street into the right of way for people to park and been missed by pick up.	11/11/2021 4:22 PM
8	Sometimes it is difficult to find space for all of the bins.	11/11/2021 3:09 PM

2	It will be impossible at times, as well as dangerous trying to cross a slippery street with the amount of traffic that can be on 13th, whether placing bins out for collection or returning them to our property.	11/11/2021 8:22 PM
3	We made the choice to move our bins to the side of the house.	11/11/2021 7:12 PM
4	There will be problems with space now that all the cans are on the street when they're significant snowfall.	11/11/2021 4:29 PM
5	As much as we dislike it we have moved our trash bins to the side of the house.	11/11/2021 4:22 PM

1	The alley is there for a reason- trash and recycle bins in the street are a nightmare and will be worse in snow weather	11/27/2021 12:10 PM
2	Absolutely. Especially with street sweeping. There is simply not enough room. Just about every house has 3 bins as well as 2 cars or more. There is supposed to be a certain amount of spacing of the bins as well. Then you have cyclists and cars having to avoid the trucks making the collections, sometimes difficult to see around. This can also be true for pedestrians trying to cross the street.	11/11/2021 8:22 PM
3	Not exactly a safety issue, but street sweeping is impacted, as is availability of parking. When sweeping and trash days coincide, it's really a mess.	11/11/2021 8:17 PM
4	Our street is narrow to begin with because we are parking on both sides. When there's no room between cars people put their trash bins outside of the cars. This is very dangerous for both drivers and bicycles.	11/11/2021 4:22 PM
